

Guidelines for the Interactive Notebook

Notebooks in this class will have a "left side, right side" orientation to help you record, organize, and process new information. Most of your work will be done in your notebook.

Activities that develop mastery of a lesson's concepts and related thinking skills	Cornell style notes from a lecture
Formative assessments of the student's mastery of the topic

Notebook Checks

The notebook will be checked and stamped at the beginning of the class for completion of previously assigned work.
